

Sir, please cut as much corn as you need from this smaller field, said the farmer. The soldiers cried: Why did you not let us cut the corn from the big field? Farmer: Sir, the big field was not mine. This field is mine. The soldiers told the king about the poor farmer. The king was sorry for his mistake. He was happy with the farmer. The king gave gold coins, for all the corn in the farmer's field.

Answer the questions given below.

Q. The farmer asked the soldiers to cut corn from the bigger or smaller field?

A. _____

Q. Whose field was the small cornfield?

A. _____

Q. Who was sorry for his mistake?

A. _____

Q. What did the king give for all the corn?

A. _____